Invented by an RVer for RVers!

Many RV's have interior ceilings that are eight feet high. This makes it impossible for almost all of us (pro basketball players are the exception) to reach up and open or close roof vents.

The VentStik was invented by an RVer for RVers. He found it ridiculous to have to use a stool or small step ladder to open and close the vents in his RV.

Just like all good inventors, he kept thinking about it until he came up with the VentStik. A very simple solution – in fact it makes all of us say, “why didn't I come up with this idea?”

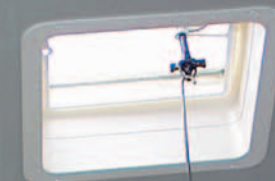

Why don't you purchase a VentStik today? You will be amazed at how simple and easy a previously difficult chore has become.

Need additional knobs for other vents in your RV? They are conveniently packaged in “two-packs” that are available from RV dealers across the United States and Canada. They are complete with all the parts you need to equip two additional vents so you can use your VentStik to open and close at your convenience.
